Volvo Car U.S. Operations – We started making cars in 1927 because we believed nobody else was making them strong enough or safe enough for Swedish roads. Along the way we’ve come up with countless innovations, some of which have changed the world. Our team members live by our three core values: safety, quality and care for the environment. Protecting what’s important; making people feel special; taking pride in helping the world become a better place for all.
